They all pointed out that China's excellent traditional culture contains a very rich ideological and political education resources, after thousands of years of accumulation, screening and development, many of the current college students with the training objectives are consistent, and today there is still a strong vitality and educational value.

To sum up, these traditional cultural resources have the following aspects: learn from the "rise and fall of the country, the responsibility of the people" patriotic feelings and social responsibility to help college students to establish lofty ideals; learn "honest and trustworthy" traditional virtues to help students establish a correct To learn from the spirit of "harmony between man and nature", to cultivate the environmental awareness and solidarity and cooperation spirit of college students; to learn from the spirit of "harmony between man and nature" and to cultivate college students' "Self-conscious province," the moral cultivation methods to help students firmly establish the socialist concept of honor and disgrace.

A Study on the Ways to Realize the Education of Chinese Excellent Traditional Culture

Zhang Yannan's Research on the Current Situation and Countermeasures of Chinese Excellent Traditional Culture Education - Taking Zhaoliang University as an Example, it is pointed out that there are many problems in the education of Chinese outstanding traditional culture, such as the lack of learning of Chinese outstanding traditional culture Nature, knowledge of Chinese outstanding traditional culture is not high, colleges and universities do not form a strong atmosphere of learning traditional Chinese culture and so on. The main reasons are: the weakening of traditional culture in modern times, the impact of network culture, the development of higher education in the process of neglect of traditional culture.

Zhu Yanhong and so on in the "local colleges and universities to promote the practice of traditional Chinese culture and education to explore - to Shandong University of Technology as an example" pointed out that the promotion of outstanding traditional Chinese culture in the process of efforts to do a good job in four areas, Strengthen the construction of ideological and cultural courses, give full play to the role of the main positions of college students education; the second is to strengthen the traditional cultural carrier construction, to carry out a variety of theme education practice activities; third is to strengthen the campus cultural environment, to create an elegant campus culture atmosphere; Role, a comprehensive lead students to grow into talent.

Therefore, it is not difficult to find out that the focus of Chinese research on Chinese traditional culture and its educational value is to study the excellent educational resources of Chinese traditional culture, and some scholars have focused on the study of traditional culture and education. This paper studies the value of traditional culture and ideological and political education, and studies the value of traditional culture in ideological and political education. Some scholars have studied the ways to inherit the outstanding cultural traditions of colleges and universities, and put forward the problems existing in the cultural inheritance of colleges and universities and the related countermeasures.

FOREIGN RESEARCH

Foreign education for traditional culture research, focused on the following aspects:

Western civic education.

Western countries through the history of civic education in the education of their traditional culture and education is the tradition of Western countries. Western traditional culture and education in the western countries in addition to the culture of the integration of many other countries of the traditional cultural theory, such as the integration of Confucian culture in China's traditional theory, combined with its own culture. Most of the culture of Western countries is separated from religion, and its theoretical basis is based on the theory of "human rights theory" and "social contract theory". The main purpose is to carry forward the spirit of their patriotism, so as to achieve the purpose of strengthening political awareness and national consciousness.

To Japan and South Korea, Singapore and other countries as the representative of the distinctive oriental culture of national cultural education.

These countries can be a good combination of traditional cultural education and ideological and political education, and unique. Japan, South Korea, Singapore in the implementation of ideological and political education in the process, fully tap the traditional values of traditional culture, cherish the excellent traditional culture, widely publicized the virtues of traditional thinking, combined with national conditions to be innovative, so that the traditional culture more characteristics of the times. And give the traditional culture of new connotation and characteristics.

SUMMARY OF RESEARCH

In summary, at home and abroad for college students excellent traditional culture education research focused on: (1) the definition of traditional culture and the study of excellent traditional cultural resources (2) the significance of Chinese traditional culture to the ideological and political education of college students (3) to strengthen the traditional Chinese culture education for the purpose of enhancing the ideological and political education of college students to achieve the way. (4) colleges and universities to achieve the traditional Chinese culture and education of the way, which there are college students on the lack of Chinese traditional culture lack of learning initiative, knowledge of the outstanding traditional Chinese culture is not high, colleges and universities do not form a strong atmosphere of learning traditional Chinese culture. The main reasons are: the weakening of traditional culture in modern times, the impact of network culture, the development of higher education in the process of neglect of traditional culture. It can be seen that the major colleges and universities mainly through the ideological and political aspects of curriculum education as the main carrier and means to achieve the excellent traditional Chinese culture of college student’s education.

CONCLUSION

In the face of the status quo of the outstanding traditional Chinese culture education, in the economic globalization today, it is imperative to strengthen the excellent traditional Chinese culture education of college students. In the path of education, we need to focus on strengthening the construction of traditional culture curriculum, play the leading role of classroom teaching; to enhance the cultural quality of teachers, teachers play a model guiding role; create a traditional cultural atmosphere, play the role of campus culture; Social practice, play the role of regional cultural resources education.

At the same time, higher vocational education through the development of many years, has occupied the higher education "half of the river", so in the construction of outstanding traditional culture heritage system, carry forward the outstanding traditional Chinese culture has an important position and role. However, the current status of higher vocational education, higher vocational education in the construction of outstanding traditional cultural heritage system has not played a due role.

Higher vocational college students are different from ordinary college students, their own cultural literacy and future employment direction and ordinary college students or there is a certain degree of difference. It is not enough to realize the excellent traditional culture education of the vocational college students through the education of the ideological and political courses of the first semester. The traditional culture and education of students in vocational colleges can integrate excellent traditional cultural resources into the teaching of professional basic courses and specialized courses. With the curriculum as the carrier, while cultivating students' professional accomplishment and professional ability, we can carry forward and inherit Chinese traditional culture, So as to realize the traditional culture education of the students in vocational colleges.
